

Brighter Super's Growth options ranked number 1 nationally over 7 years to 30 June 2025

Brighter Super continues to deliver industry-leading investment performance, with its Growth Accumulation and Pension options ranking number one for returns over the past seven years, according to SuperRatings June 2025 Fund Crediting Rate Survey¹.

Brighter Super's Growth options topped the national rankings with an average return of 9.54% for its Accumulation option and 10.71% return for its Pension option over 7 years to 30 June 2025². Both Growth options also ranked in the top three for the 3-year period to 30 June 2025, delivering an average of 12.76% for its Accumulation option and 14.34% for its Pension option.

The standout long-term performance came as eight of Brighter Super's diversified investment options achieved double-digit returns, including its MySuper default option over the 12 months to 30 June 2025. The MySuper option delivered a return of 10.89% for the financial year, outperforming the industry median of 10.51%. It also achieved an impressive 6th place ranking over the three years to 30 June 2025, reflecting strong performance following the fund's mergers and integration.

"We're proud that our Growth options for both Accumulation and Pension hold the Number One ranking in their respective SuperRatings indices over 7 years to 30 June 2025," Brighter Super Chief Executive Officer Kate Farrar said.

"These results reflect our strong commitment to delivering consistent, long-term returns for our members."

In addition, Brighter Super's Conservative Balanced option was ranked number one for both 3 and 7 years in SuperRatings' rankings — for both the Accumulation and Pension options. The Conservative Balanced Accumulation option returned an average of 8.81% over 3 years and 6.42% over 7 years, while the Pension equivalent delivered 10% and 7.17% respectively over the same periods.

Brighter Super Chief Investment Officer, Mark Rider said strong returns from both domestic and international equities have driven the fund's performance over the past year.

"What's most pleasing is our consistent long-term performance. Our diversified, actively managed portfolios are built to weather market ups and downs and have shown resilience through uncertainty. We encourage members to stay focused on their long-term goals. Our strategy is designed to adapt, manage risk, and deliver results over time," Mr Rider said.
