Finance industry veteran joins LGIAsuper Board

One of Australia's most experienced investment managers has joined the Board of Queensland-based LGIAsuper.

Ronald Dewhurst has been appointed as an independent director on the nine-strong Board, replacing John Wilson who resigned earlier this year.

Mr Dewhurst currently chairs a number of listed and unlisted companies, including One Vue Holdings and Rhinomed Limited.

His investment management career spans senior leadership roles across the globe, including Head of Global Investment Managers for fund manager Legg Mason and CEO of IOOF.

LGIAsuper chair John Smith said he was delighted to welcome Mr Dewhurst to the Board.

"A cornerstone of our investment strategy is to seek out innovative, long-life assets across the globe," Mr Smith said.

"Mr Dewhurst's experience in global investment banking and asset management will strengthen the Board's ability to generate strong returns for our members, while managing risk appropriately".

The LGIAsuper Board has equal representation of member-elected, employer-nominated and independent directors, including an independent chair.
